

An organization uniting young women and men in the first years of their careers. WiFA Young Professionals offers unique opportunities carefully customized to the needs of our members.

Who Are We?

WiFA Young Professionals has a very simple mission: to customize the full benefits of professional networking for individuals who are in the first phase of their careers. Hong Kong offers incredible networking opportunities to individuals at all stages in their professional lives, however to take full advantage of them we believe that different demographics each present a unique set of needs.

Our goal is to assist young professionals as they work to form social and professional connections and to provide a support system, which will allow them to integrate flawlessly into the larger WiFA network.

How Do We Work?

Women in Finance Asia, our parent organization, boasts a proud history of creating a network of successful, determined and talented individuals at the forefront of their respective fields.

Members of WiFA Young Professionals will benefit from more intimate events tailored towards the first leg of one's career, while also being able to join the greater WiFA network for wider networking opportunities with incredible people. We will hold informal regular social gatherings in addition to quarterly events. Membership is free of charge.

How Do You Benefit?

If you think WiFA YPs might be the right organization for you, please come check out our inaugural events later this summer.

WiFA YPs offers exclusive opportunities for you to get more involved in a young, quickly growing organization and meet people who are having similar experiences in the workplace. Our events are intentionally low or no cost to the attendee, and scheduled at times that do not conflict with our parent organization to ensure you get the fullest possible experience during your time as a WiFA YP.

Look out for our first event invite: get to know the women and men of WiFA!

Passionate members of YP will have opportunities to plan and assist with events and gain leadership experience as well.
